GUIDELINES

- Remember not to use existing print ads or television commercials. They must be adapted or redesigned.
- The media must be developed specifically for portrait format that has aspect ratio of 9:16.
- The City of Stockholm has required limitations on how much animation a digital ad may have at one time. This means that we are prevented from publishing digital content in the form of commercials and movie trailers that can cause a distraction.
- Strictly follow the specified guidelines for both bitrate and frame rate.
